

KAGYU SAMYE LING
MONASTERY & TIBETAN CENTRE

July 2016

To Whom It May Concern:

Re Susan Brunner Tuazon

Susan was a conscientious student in the 2015 pre-retreat preparation classes that I taught for the one-year Samye Ling Ngondro Retreat on Holy Isle. She was attentive and showed great interest in all the instructions for playing Tibetan instruments and torma-making, attending all the classes.

She is currently in the Ngondro Retreat, where I have been providing guidance to her regularly on an individual basis. Susan takes the meaning of her practice to heart.

From the beginning of the retreat, she expressed the wish to continue with one or two long retreats and this commitment to Dharma practice has steadily increased. Based on my experience with other retreatants and my interviews with her, I have full conviction that she has the stability of mind and qualities to be benefited by long retreat.

Yours faithfully,

Kating Lama
